

Drop-in Event

SATURDAY 19TH MAY
THURSDAY 24TH MAY

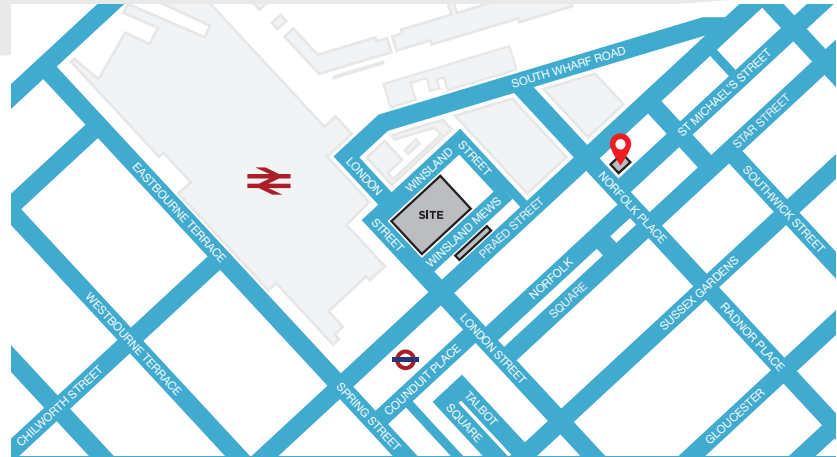

Paddington Square is the new name for the development proposals previously known as Paddington Quarter.

Following the grant of planning permission last year we are now refining the final design detail for the new office building which forms the centrepiece of the Paddington Square development.

Great Western Developments and Sellar invite you to a design development drop-in information event at which we will display a small number of changes to the exterior of the proposed office building. There will be no increase in height or mass of the permitted building and the planned refinements will seek to enhance the design only.

This drop-in event will inform local people of the ongoing design development ahead of the submission of a non-material amendment application to Westminster City Council.
